In the month of March 1908, the State Library divided its collection in the Capitol Building and moved across Grand Avenue to three floors of the newly completed east wing of the Historical, Memorial and Arts Building (now the Ola Babcock Miller Building). The Law Library remained in the Capitol and the General Collection, established in 1901, filled the shelves of the new library building. In celebration, an exhibit of State Library history, including historic photos of the library and biographies of present and past State Librarians, is on display in the rotunda of the Miller Building during March and April.

Visit the exhibit in the Miller Building at the corner of E. 12th and Grand Ave. The Library is open 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday-Friday.

To celebrate National Library Week the State Library is offering state employees a week's worth of classes. Improve your online research skills

For National Library Week, the State Library will be offering films with Iowa themes during two Lunch and Learns. The films will be shown in Room 310 in the Miller Building. It will be first-come, first-served seating for the first 40 people. Join us for one or both of these award winning documentaries!

Lost Nation: The Ioway tells the dramatic true tale of two brothers' struggle to save their people from inevitable American conquest, and the Ioway's current struggle to reclaim and maintain their unique native history and culture.

Tuesday, April 15th, 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. For more information about this film go to <http://www.iowaymovie.com/film.htm>.

A Little Salsa on the Prairie: The Changing Character of Perry, Iowa, chronicles the rapid ethnic diversification of the community and explores the significant change that began in Perry in the early 1990s when the complexion of a once predominantly white community shifted dramatically. An influx of Latino workers and their families came from as far away as Texas, California, Mexico and Central America to work at the local meat packing plant.

One of the film's producers, Jody Swilky, from Drake University, will be on hand to introduce the film and to answer questions afterwards. The film will be shown Thursday, April 17th. Introduction is at 11:15 a.m., the film starts at 11:30, and questions & answers will be from 12:30-12:45. For more information about this film go to <http://littlesalsaontheprairie.com>.

Feel free to bring a lunch with you to eat while you enjoy the show/s.

Do you have an invention or an inventive idea? Are you concerned about protecting your idea or invention? Learn the reasons for getting a patent, the resources available to inventors and how to navigate the most useful patent Web sites. Includes handouts and time for questions and answers. Karon King, Patent and Trademark Specialist at the State Library, will teach this class for Des Moines Public Schools Community Education. Wednesday, April 2nd, 6:30-8:30 p.m., Room 110 at Roosevelt High School. Roosevelt High School is located at 4419 Center Street in Des Moines, Iowa.

For more information and to register for this class go to: <http://www.dmps-adulted.org/classes.html>.

The art of Barbara Jones Prall will be exhibited at the State Library during the month of April. Ms. Prall is an award winning portrait & landscape artist from Marion, Iowa. She has painted many commissioned portraits, including that of former First Lady Christie Vilsack, which hangs in the State Library. Her paintings are done in a variety of styles including oil, acrylics, and watercolor. She says, "My goal is to express a positive view of life by celebrating beauty and joy in creation. I believe we all are meant to give something back and what I hope to give back is an appreciation of the beauty of each person, place or thing." For more information about Ms. Prall's work go to <http://www.barbprall.com/>.

To see this exhibit, visit the first floor of the State Library located in the Miller Building at the corner of E. 12th and Grand Ave. The Library is open 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Visit the Law Library on the second floor of the State Capitol Building to see an exhibit of art created by students at the Iowa Juvenile Home during art therapy classes. Descriptions of the motivation behind the work accompany each of these moving and evocative pieces. For more information, click here. The art will be exhibited in the Law Library until it moves to the Capitol rotunda for a larger exhibit on April 15th, 16th, and 17th.
